A HIGHLY IMPORTANT WORK OF THE BUREAU OF LABOR STATISTICS.

Information Relating to Every Strike or Labor Disturbance of Any Importance, Which Has Occurred in the Past Six Years-Other Washington News.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 30,-"This monograph," said Mr. Wright, commissioner of ture. labor, yesterday, "is believed to cover in detail every strike or labor disturbance of any importance which has occurred within The State of Missouri Loses Her Chief Exthe past six years. As may be imagined, its compilation has been a great undertaking, will justify the outlay. Our plan in securing the details of strikes which occurred several years ago has been to read old files of the leading journals of New York, Boston, Philadelphia, St. Louis, New Orleans and other large cities, and wherever a strike is referred to we have gathered all the data to be obtained from any source, bearing on it, including the trade journals, in which we have found very fair and impartial accounts. In this way we have secured sufficient facts to enable us to prosecute the work on the ground where the strikes occurred, and thus complete an accurate synopsis of the entire controversy.

"What deduction have you been able to make from the matter you have gath-

"We haven't gone very far in that line of conjecture, for all this time I believe any attempt to deduce a rule of action from the experience of the past would be but wasted time and effort. We are now in the midst of what I may call a strike wave, which will pass over in a few years, then, perhaps, we can, by studying the causes and results of these disturbances, come upon some underlying principle by observing which we may avoid them in the future. During the period covered by my report the strike of greatest importance and widest reach in influence was that on the Gould lines of the southwest. The policy and expedients adopted by the labor organizations and by the management of the roads form an inter-

A New Boom for Florida.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 30.-Florida congress men and others interested in the growth of the land of flowers hear with delight of the purchase of large sections of land in that state by one of the greatest cigar manufacturing firms of the country. There is a par-ticular part of Florida which has always grown fine tobacco. Gadsden county, before the war, was noted for its fine tobacco, used for cigars. Of late the culture of tobacco in that section, however, had fallen into a state of "innocuous desuetude." Not long ago a The companies represented by the undersigned insure at reasonable rates all insurable property against loss or damage by Firs, fightning or Wind. W. R WARDER Agent, as a country was a couple of bright young men dropped quietly in there, on a special car, which was quietly side tracked and left to stand several weeks, while the occupants ostensibly hunted and fished and had a good time. In point of fact, though, they were hunting and fishing for bargains. And one fine morning the good citizens of Gadsden county awoke to discover that these quiet young men had scooped in a big lot of land for the big tobacco and cigar manufacturing firm in New York which so much developed the tobacco industry in Wisconsin. This season this firm is planting couple of bright young men dropped quietly Wisconsin. This season this firm is planting a thousand acres of its new Florida purchase in tobacco, which it expects will be as good as the expensive and highly taxed Cuban tobacco. There are also great developments in fruit and sugar and gardening and it is believed that a great day is at hand for Florida.

Overworked Government Employes. WASHINGTON, Dec. 30.—The death of Daniel Manning from overwork while holding a government office-for there is no doubt that overwork in the treasury brought on his illness which resulted fatally—shows something of the injustice of the general and frequently reiterated theory that government officials are not hard workers. The fact is that the conscientious men who have the responsibilities of the success or failure of a department or bureau upon their shoulders do work very hard and worry a great deal. Col. Bragg, of the interstate commerce commission, recently said: "I have heard a good many times of people in governmen employ working themselves to death, but I vas always inclined to look upon the story with a good deal of suspicion. But now that have had some experience in that line I am inclined to think it quite possible. Indeed, I find that it is quite easy for the official who is determined to do his work well to break himself down at it. The demand upon the conscientious government official who has a desire to not only keep up with his work, but to do it well, is greater than the people generally have any idea. I can very easily see how it might happen that a man in a responsible position, in which he felt some pride, might work so hard and such long hours as to literally break himself down."

The Death Roll in Congress.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 30, - Congressman Moffatt was the third member of the Fiftieth congress who yielded to the grim reaper. Robertson, of Louisiana, was the first, then Kane, of New York, then Moffatt. The average number of deaths in congress is about eight or nine. The largest number that any one congress has had is thirteen. That was the Forty-fourth congress, when such men as Andrew Johnson, Michael Kerr, Caperton, of Virginia, Parsons, of Kentucky, and others were numbered in the list. The last congress, the Forty-ninth, was next in its bereavements, for it lost twelve men, including Vice President Hendricks, who, as presiding officer of the senate, may properly be classed in the list. There have been but two congresses, the Second and Fourth, in which there have not been some deaths The number of congressmen who have died "in harness" since the First congress was selected under the constitution, is 273.

Sending in Protests. WASHINGTON, Dec. .30-Protests are being received at the treasury department against the recent reductions in the customs force and the practical discontinuance of some of the smaller ports. It is said that some of the congressmen who voted against any increase of appropriation for the customs service are among the most active in their demands for the restoration of the abolished districts. The annual appropriation of $5,500,000 for the customs service has remained the same for the past fifteen years, while the business has been constantly on the increase. The annual report of the secretary of the treasury has regularly called attention to the fact that A THOUSAND KNIGHTS SECEDE FROM this amount is inadequate for the purpose intended. Congress has failed to increase the appropriation, and the members are now hearing what their constituents think of them for their neglect. It is the impression at the department that the discontinuance of the ports will have a good effect on congress. The customs service will doubtless be more liberally appropriated for in the fu-

ANOTHER GOVERNOR GONE,

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., Dec. 30.—Governor but I think the value of the information John S. Marmaduke, of Missouri, died at 9:37 last night at the executive mansion in Jefferson City. He was taken suddenly ill with a cold, which developed into pneumonia. His death was totally unexpected, although he had not been well since last summer, and had spent the fall traveling in Europe for his health. Governor John S. Marmaduke, aged fiftyfour years, was a native of Missouri. After attending Yale and Harvard colleges be entered West Point Military academy in 1853. Graduating four years afterward, be entered a regiment under Gen. A. S. Johnston, but resigned in 1861 and went to Missouri where he organized and commanded a regiment of Missouri state guards. He resigned after the battle of Boonville and entered the Confederate service as first lieutenant, and finally rose to colonel. He was wounded at Shiloh and was then made a brigadier general. In 1863 he fought a duel with Gen. Walker, of Memphis, also a Confederate. At the third shot Walker fell mortally wounded. The trouble was as to who was superior officer. Mr. Marmaduke afterward succeeded to the command, conducted the retreat from Little Rock, and after several battles was captured in 1864, but released in 1865. His reckless bravery was attributed to remorse about Walker's death. He engaged in commercial pursuits at St. Louis and filled several minor state offices. In 1884 he was elected governor by the Democrats.

He will be succeeded in the executive chair by Lieutenant Governor Morehouse.

Important Grant From Mexico.

EL Paso, Tex., Dec. 30.-William H. Mc-Wood, a San Francisco capitalist, returned yesterday from the City of Mexico with papers for one of the largest concessions ever granted by the Mexican government. The concession is a right of way for a railroad to commence at Tepic, state of Jalisco, and run northwest to Mazatlan on the coast, in the state of Sinaloa, thence northwest through that state, touching a number of important cities, to connect with the Southern Pacific road at Yuma, A. T. The new line will be somewhat circular, forming a belt line that will tap one of the largest and richest mining regions in the world.

WATCHING THE ANARCHISTS.

The Chicago Police Say Nothing Can be Done but What is Known to Them. CHICAGO, Dec. 30 .- The statement made by Mrs. Lucy Parsons to a newspaper reporter, the other day, that hereafter it would be impossible for any police spies or Pinkerton operators to become acquainted with the secret doings of the Anarchists, does not appear to give any uneasiness to the leading police officials of the city. One of the latter said this morning that it would be impossible for the revolutionary groups to again organize without the knowledge of the authorities; that the movements of those prominently connected with the Most party were still being carefully watched, and that anything approaching secrecy in a new revolutionary movement would be impossible.

The auditing committee of the Anarchist Defense fund held a session to-day for the purpose of passing upon the accounts of the treasurer for the present year. His statement shows receipts of $11,878; disbursements, $11,485, leaving a balance of $393. This, added to the relief fund, gives the committee a total cash in hand of $5,890.

LATEST LABOR TROUBLES.

THE ORDER-

The Reading Troubles in a Badly Muddled Condition-A General Strike Ordered, But Not as Yet Obeyed-Trouble Among the New York Cigarmakers.

NEW YORK, Dec. 30,-The Knights of Labor in this city are indgnant with Mr. Corbin and Superintendent Sweigard, whom they accuse of bad faith. According to their statement the committee of the knights were given to understand by Mr. Corbin that all the strikers would be taken back to work, and Mr. Sweigard, acting under those instructions, gave the order.

Subsequently he issued another order that the leaders, who number about four hundred, should not be re-employed. The committee thereupon decided to call out all the men again, and prepared the telegrams to the various sections. But the telegraph authorities, they say, positively refused to send the dispatches of the committee over the wires.

Dispatches from points along the line of the Reading railroad poured in to-day upon Austin Corbin, advising him that matters were going on as smoothly as could be expected. After reading a number of these telegrams, Mr. Corbin assumed the aggressive. He sent the following order to Archibald A. McLeod, general manager of the company at Philadelphia;

"To each of our old employes who have stood manfully and faithfully by us we feel obliged and thankful, and we shall not forget them, but the time has now arrived when all of our employes will be required to decide whether they expect to retain their places by reason of honest and faithful service and prompt obedience to the orders of the company that employs and pays them, or by blind obedience to the direction of the Knights of Labor, through which organization the leaders hope to coerce us into the employment of men who considered their first obedience due to that order. The men that stand by us will have employment with reasonable hours and good pay-as much as is paid by any other corporation of a similar character. Men who do not will never be allowed on the road again under any circumstances. We have never objected to labor organizations and do not now. Every man shall be free to belong to one, or not, as he pleases, but the heads of such orders can not and shall not dictate to this company as to whom it shall employ or how it shall operate its property. Places that are left in obedience to orders of the Knights of Labor, will be filled with new men, and such new men will be retained.

Timothy P. Quinn Placed in Charge. NEW YORK, Dec. 30.-Timothy Putnam Quinn, of District Assembly 49 and the Home club, has been placed in charge of the Reading strike by the officers of the General Assembly, Knights of Labor. Chairman Lee, of the executive committee of Reading employes, has issued a circular to the knights and the public. He says that owing to the declaration of Superintendent Sweigard that he would wipe the order out, the men must fight. The miners will stand by the railroaders, and it will take a great deal of money to wipe out the knights. At Mahanoy City and Shamokin every thing is tied up. Reading employes will hold a mass meeting to-day to determine what course to pursue.

A Thousand Knights Secede.

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 30.-Local Assembly No. 10,235, comprising all the men in this city engaged in passenger traffic on the Reading railroad, including telegraph operators and numbering over one thousand men, met last night, surrendered its charter and disbanded. Train Robbers Arrested.

VERNAL, Utah, Dec. 30 .- L. U. King and J. L. Matthews, two of the four train robbers that went through Denver & Rio Grande passenger trains near Grand Junction last October and secured considerable booty from the mail car, were arrested here yesterday. Government officers are pursuing the other two through the mountains, with good pros pects of securing them in a few days.

Denver Gamblers Must Go. DENVER, Col., Dec. 30 .- Mayor Lee has startled the sporting fraternity by the announcement that he would issue an order on Saturday closing all gambling houses, large and small. This will affect probably one hundred and fifty fare and poker rooms. The lews against gambling houses have never been enforced here, and this new crusade is a surprise to the sporting frateruity.

LATEST NEWS FROM HAWAII-

Insurrection Narrowly Averted-Kalakaua's Throne Again Threatened.

San Francisco, Dec. 30 .- Private advices received here from members of the Hawaiian legislature say that were it not for the presence of the English and American men-of-war in the harbor an outbreak would undoubtedly have occurred on the assembly of the legislature December 19.

Minister Ashford brought out the Honolulu Rifles with the intention of subverting the government at once, but the success of the design was prevented by the officers of the vessels, whose threats stopped the proposed fasurrection before any sanguinary trouble occurred. The king's vetoes are among the chief features of contention. Their legality, however, and the validity of the constitution will be sustained without a doubt, as the king has the majority of the supreme court. The liquor and police bill, which had been passed by the legislature were returned then with the king's veto. The ministers hope to have S. P. Dale placed on the bench as a fifth judge.

The king has put in trust to pay his debts, which amounts to $250,000, exclusive of $71,-000 due a Chinese merchant, which was paid to the king as a bribe to obtain a license for the sale of opium, all his real estate, which consists of a life interest in the crown lands and also lands which he owns in fee simple, save two or three small parcels. The trustees are J. O. Carter, S. M. Damen and Curtis Zankea. All bills are to be presented within three months and the dividends are to be declared monthly. The title papers have all been recorded.

A letter from one of the legislators says if the king does not assent to the acts of the esent legislature he will be dethroned and provisional government substituted. So limited is the state of these islands that those most concerned in the kingdom's prosperity are favoring annexation to the United States and the feeling in this respect is spreading among all classes.

Charles F. Babcock, a Boston chemist, they say, invented the Bab-cock extinguisher in 1867. He is still alive, and is supposed to be a rich man.

THE SNAPPING OF STRINGS.

tiring Arm of the Violinist-Style. Listeners at orchestral concerts, who have been an oyed, as many were at the last Thomas rehearsal, by the incessant snapping of strings, have often wondered if there was there were such a way the listener might be assured that Theodore Thomas would not endure with such patience the noisy interruption to the music that occurs every now and known to players. It arises, of course, from stretched upon the instrument. It is largely due to atmospheric conditions. On damp this accident than others, because of perspiration at the fingers' ends. This will tend constantly to throw the E string, and the others also, out of tune, and eventually to make the string too susceptible to the strain to which it is subjected.

Another matter which frequently excites violinists manifest in bowing their instruments. It seems to the spectator as if the constant strain of bowing would tire a man after an hour and a half of playing so that he could not go through another piece. As a matter of fact, the arm of a violinist is rarely wearied by the exercise, but he is, nevertheless, very susceptible to fatigue in another direction. His sensitive part is the ends of the fingers of the left hand. An ordinary concert, or an opera even, through which the violinists have to play almost uninterruptedly, does not bring any especial the performance, and directors recognizing

IN MEMORIAM.

On the night of December 21, 1887, at his home near Mayslick, Mason County, Ky., Mr. Robert Bedford, at the age of sixty-two years, passed away from earth to his reward. His death was unexpected, for he was sick only a few days, but it did not find him unprepared. He was calm and undisturbed in prospect of death.

Carlisle a few evenings ago. There were about a dozen men and women in the house at the time, and some twenty shots were fired in all. Harry Morford, a young lawyer of Carlisle, and Harry James, a Kentucky Central employe at Paris, were both shot in the arm. James has a wife and several children and is well connected at Paris. The affair has very naturally created a sensation at both places. Warrants are out for the parties, but they have skipped.

THAT LIBRARY ASSOCIATION.

Response From "The Home Literary Circle."

To Mr. L. W. Galbraith : - Your letter are many in our community who have a desire to read and cultivate their minds, but have few books, and little or no means to procure libraries of their own. They would gladly avail themselves of such a privilege as membership in a circulating library. Does not the mind need food and fuel as well as the body for its growth and preservation?

No Public Library in the city, no Lycenm, no literary center, a startling appouncement to strangers, that Maysville so up in public spirit in other respects should be wanting in this literary regard for public benefit. In general enterprise we keep pace with the times. Business, social and religious mevements are alive to every advancement of the å.e. Are we not aroused to the deplorable fact of such a void in our intellectual status. and willing to aid such an enterprise Mr. Galbraith's timely suggestion should be encouraged as a wise movement.

We as one of the Literary Circles heartily approve the suggestion to organize such an association, and will co-operate in a plan as worthy and elevating as this public institution would be in our midst. Miss C. Russell.

INDIGNATION AROUSED.

SUCH IS THE FEELING IN IRELAND AT THE PRESENT TIME.

Mr. Balfour Determined to Pursue His Plan of Prosecution to the End-Emperor William Not Dead-Peace Assured Between Austria and Russia.

LONDON, Dec. 30.—The continuance of the government's policy of arresting the editors of Irish newspapers publishing reports of league meetings, has aroused a feeling of indignation among those who have all along believed that the course of the Irish secretary in the matter was directed only toward certain persons, but who now see that the in-

of prosecution to the end.

Precisely what good can come to the Irish cause from the defiant publication of reports that are already in possession of the people most interested in them through their attendance at the meetings reported, with the result of consigning men to jail who ought to be at liberty and at work in behalf of the cause in more effective ways, it is difficult to see, and it is to be hoped that the actual leaders of the Irish party and the league will make haste to abolish the practice. The parsistent printing of these prohibited re-ports, which after all amount to nothing, can be at the best merely a matter of pride, and when it becomes quite plain, as it now has, that the violators of the executive proclamation in this regard are certain to be removed from a field of usefulness for one, two or three months each, without having accomplished anything for their cause by their deflance of the law, their acts are stripped of the elements of patriotism and become mere

This practice, it will be remembered, is one of the several which Mr. Parnell in a recent interview expressed himself as not entirely in sympathy with, and it has lately been the subject of remark that he has not since and more powerfully raised his voice against it. Even those who are at this late day moved to indignation at the uncompromising attitude of the government toward these, in some respects, misguided editors clearly see that the Home Rule cause and not the government is being weakened by the unequal and unproductive fight, and freely express the opinion that its continuance will result in Mr. Parnell and his immediate lieutenants finding some of the most important of the Irish leaders in jail at a critical moment in the near future, when their country's needs demand their presence in parliament and at other posts of Peace Between Austria and Russia.

LONDON, Dec. 30.—A Berlin dispatch says that Austria, yielding to the pressure of certain friendly powers, has made advances to Russia by which peace is assured. Prince Lobanoff, Russian embassador to Berlin, has assured Count Kalnoky that Russia means peace and that the concentration of Russian troops on the Galician frontier is not intended to be offensive.

Emperor William Not Dead.

A Collision Which Barely Comes Off Without Loss of Life.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., Dec. 30.—The cannon ball express on the Albert Lea route, leaving Chicago at 12:05 p. m., was wrecked at Ely, Ia., twelve miles from Cedar Rapids, at 2:30 m. vesterday. A heavy drift of snow stopped the train at Ely, and while the track was being cleared, a heavy freight engine with a caboose attached, ran into the rear of the buffet coach, telescoping it and sending the second or rear sleeper into the first as far as the toilet room and turning over the stove.

By prompt action of the passengers and conductor the fire was put out before doing any damage. The other coaches were jammed together, and the second engine converted into a wreck. The freight engine and buffet car were demolished. Every coach was full of passengers and all were jarred and bruised, three seriously, but none fatally. A driving snow storm was in progress, and the passengers thrown out of the sleepers in their night clothing suffered from severe cold. The train left Ely fifteen hours late. The names of the injured are not known

Nine Rounds Fought.

DENVER, Col., Dec. 30.-Lawrence Farrell, of Denver, and Samuel Gaundecker, of Pennsylvania, fought nine rounds yesterday afternoon at a point in Wild county, about thirteen miles north of this city. Farrell weighed 178 pounds and Gaundecker twenty pounds less. Blood was drawn in the second round and Gaundecker furnished it. Gaundecker was rather inclined to force the fight, but after the fourth round he fought entirely on the defensive. In the ninth round Farrell staggered him with a hard blow on the neck, and before he could recover dealt him another terrific blow on the left eye with his open hand, knocked him almost senseless. For a moment Gaundecker staggered and struggled to keep on his feet, but almost instantly he fell backward and closed both eyes. After a second or two he crawled across the ring to the feet of Farrell, begging in the most piteous tones to be helped up. Time was called and their being no response from Gaundecker, the referee decided in favor of Farrell. Time twenty-five minutes.

Illinois War of Rates.

CHICAGO, Dec. 20 .- The Illinois freight rate war is still being prosecuted with vigor. New moves are continually made by the contending factions, but as the roads are not publishing regular tariffs, but make private rates to shippers, there is not as much excitement as there would be otherwise. What the exact rates from Chicago to East St. Louis and other Illinois towns are it is hard to tell, but it is generally admitted that they are very low. There is little freight being shipped west from Chicago to Illinois points, notwithstanding the low rates, but as far as can be ascertained the Chicago & Alton gets toe bulk of the business. This road seems depermined to keep 10 per cent. below competing lines.

Warning to Cigarette Smokers.

TROY, N. Y., Dec. 30.-Richard H. Barringer, a popular young man who has just died here, was a constant smoker of cigarettes. He became troubled with an affection of the heart which was followed by dropsy. Several physicians attended him and they all agreed that his system had been shattered by nicotine poisoning. He had a fine physique, and until recently was believed to have good prospects of a long life. After his death one his veins burst and the blood therefrom was almost as black as ink.

MEXICAN NEWS

Police Breaking Up Dens of Witches-The Wealth of the Church.

CITY OF MEXICO, Dec. 30 .- Recently in the capitol the police broke up a den of witches. In the room they found a crucifix which the witches one after another were flogging unmercifully, a lot of candles burning upside down, and an assortment of puppets made a fancied resemblance of various persons, some of which were pierced with pins, others had a black beetle fastened over the heart and others had a snake tied around the throat. Witches and their uncanny stuff were bundled off to the police station. Francisco Vega recently died in Guadala-iara at the age of one hundred years. The Monitor says that the clergy of Mexico have over $10,000,000 out at interest in the country and abroad and that they own over three hundred houses in the central districts of the capital. Recently, at Apam, a man blindfolded walked a beam stretched from the steeple to the cupola of the church.

St. Ignacio Cumplido, the founder of the Tiglo XIX, one of the oldest papers published in Mexico, died the other day in the capital. Large deposits of quicksilver have bee discovered near Mascota, Jalisco.
